FALL MEETING: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 2010

Advisory

Please be aware that this is the weekend of the New York City Marathon, so we would advise booking your flights and hotels at your earliest convenience.

Meals

There will be no lunch before the meeting, but we will get together for dinner afterwards. Food, beverages, and smoking are not permitted at the meeting facility. Please eat a late, hearty brunch!

Dinner: At Josephina, 1900 Broadway between W. 63rd & 64th, (212) 799-1000. A splendid three-course dinner will be served, with your choice of appetizer, entrée, and dessert. Coffee or tea is included in the $42 price; other beverages will be available for individual purchase. Menu attached.

Speakers

Andrew Sellon, retiring President of our Society and editor emeritus of the Knight Letter, is a professional actor and voiceover artist who has presented his one-man show about Mr. Dodgson, Through the Looking-Glass Darkly, to great acclaim.

Edward Guiliano, former president of our Society, president and CEO of the New York Institute of Technology, is the author or editor of eight books, including Lewis Carroll Observed and Lewis Carroll: A Celebration. He is a renowned expert on Victorian literature.

Oleg Lipchenko is an artist based in Toronto. His spectacular illustrations to Alice's Adventures in Wonderland (Studio Treasure, 2007; trade: Tundra, 2009) won the coveted Elizabeth Mrazik-Cleaver Award. He recently illustrated Humpty Dumpty and Others: Selected Nursery Rhymes (Studio Treasure, 2008; trade: Tundra, 2010), and is currently working on the Snark.

Adam Gopnik is a noted critic, novelist, staff writer for the New Yorker, and a much sought-after speaker. His novels include the best-selling Paris to the Moon, and his latest Carroll-inspired children's work, The Steps Across the Water. He also wrote the introduction to Martin Gardner's The Annotated Hunting of the Snark: The Definitive Edition (Norton, 2006).

Jenny Woolf is the editor of Lewis Carroll in His Own Account, and the author of the new biography The Mystery of Lewis Carroll: Discovering the Whimsical, Thoughtful, and Sometimes Lonely Man Who Created "Alice in Wonderland."

Cathy Rubin is the author of The Real Alice in Wonderland: A Role Model for the Ages (Henmead, 2010), a scrapbook-style biography of Alice Liddell Hargreaves, who was her great-aunt's aunt.
